RENO MAN DIES WHILE PREPARING TO GO TO TRAIN

FALLS BACK ON BED WHILE PACKING SUITCASE TO LEAVE TONOPAH.
Joe Rheling, a waiter by occupation, died this morning about 8 o'clock at the Greystone hotel while packing his suitcase to return to Reno, whence he came ten days ago. The body was taken in charge by Coroner Dunsmuir and turned over to Undertaker Cavanaugh after an inquest. Heart disease was the cause. Rheling came here from the Thomas cafe, Reno, and was of prosperous appearance. He wore good clothes and had a moderate amount of good jewelry and when the body was searched $35 was taken from the pockets. Deceased had worked at the Tonopah grill, having been hired by Pat Mooney, one of the owners, when the latter recently was at Reno attending the Knights of Columbus council, but after his arrival he complained of not feeling well and that his heart action was not good. It is supposed the altitude was too invigorating and he finally resolved to return to a lower level, either at Reno or Sacramento. This morning he appeared at the Tonopah grill, where he slipped a glass of hot milk, explaining that he was indisposed. Saying good-bye to Mr. Mooney, Rheling went down the street to the Greystone, where he began packing his belongings. While thus engaged he fell over on the bed and expired. The dead man was 45 years of age and had a son, Eugene Rheling, living at 2022 1 street, Sacramento. Nothing is known of his antecedents.

JEWISH FARMERS ESTABLISH CREDIT

FOURTEEN YEARS' BUSINESS WARRANTS EXTENSION OF LOANS.

(By Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, April 17.—George W. Simon, western representative of the Jewish Agricultural and Industrial Aid society, this afternoon told the Second National conference on marketing and farm credits of the work of that organization.
During the fourteen years it has been in existence, our society has granted, in round numbers, 3000 loans, aggregating $2,000,000. The loans are made at four per cent interest, on long-term mortgages, running on an average for 10 years. The terms of repayment are based largely upon the ability of the farmer and the earning capacity of the farm. The character of the farmer is taken into as much consideration as the real estate security. The proof of the soundness of our experiment is that, in spite of the inferior security, which we accept, our losses during the fourteen years, were less than two and a half per cent, and the repayment, thirty per cent. The payment to the society for the fiscal year ended December 31, 1913, amounted to $90,991.04 on the principal and $30,392.18 in interest.
Our operations cover a wider territory than that of all the European land-credit banks combined. It proves that the rural credit system is practical and may be adopted in every state of the union. The time of free land being past, and is now a good security, provided we have good farmers on it. I believe that land is worth as much as the man who is on it, and we do have some good men on our farms.
Our experience has shown that, after receiving loans on second and third mortgages, on easy payments, our farmers were still struggling against trying difficulties. There arose in our rural districts a new class of money-lenders, who gradually preyed upon the farmers until they had them completely in their power. Sometimes they are the local storekeepers, sometimes "just neighbors." These money-lenders infest the body of our farmers and sap all their energy and strength.

RUSH TO ENLIST FOR THE WAR IN ARMY AND NAVY

NO CALL FOR SERVICES, AS NO CALL ISSUED TO INCREASE FORCE.

CHICAGO, April 17.—Patriotism loomed big in Chicago today, particularly in the throbbing breasts of youthful citizens. A call for volunteers would hardly attract greater numbers of young men to the army and navy recruiting offices than are daily visiting these places in the hope of being sent "to the front."
That is the situation, too, throughout the great district of which Chicago is the center, according to the patriotic youths, however, the navy's complement is practically filled, while the army is enlisting only about 25 per cent of the number that apply for admission to the uniformed ranks.
"Our applications number at least 100 a day," asserted Lieutenant F. R. Kenney, in charge of the Chicago recruiting district, which embraces northern Illinois and a large part of Wisconsin. "Some days we have a majority of the young fellows who come to us are exceptionally fine types. The army of unemployed, so-called, does not appeal to us, and its members are seldom enlisted. They comprise a type that does not read or write, frequently and are otherwise not acceptable. The boys we have been getting of late are fellows from offices, who have given up their work or are willing to for a chance to see service."

At the navy recruiting station at 208 North Fifth avenue, conditions were similar, except that fewer acceptances were recorded.
"We are simply enlisting enough men to take the places of others whose terms expire shortly," said Lieutenant E. W. Reno. "The navy limit of 52,500 has been reached, so we cannot go on enlisting in numbers. Our applicants are many however, and we are sorry to turn the boys down."

PROPOSITION NOT ENTERTAINED BY PRESIDENT WILSON, WHO ORDERS OUT MORE WARSHIPS

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, April 17.—Dictator Huerta has parleyed again. He demands that his salute to the American flag shall be returned simultaneously. This President Wilson is virtually certain not to accept.
The latest hitch at the eleventh hour when officials expected the situation was as good as closed, was disclosed by dispatches from Charge

O'Shaughnessy, which the president discussed with the cabinet. Administration officials said privately that Huerta's counter proposition would not be accepted. Any intention of recalling ships bound for Tampico is abandoned. Those close to the administration expect the president's demand for an unqualified apology will be backed up. It is said that Huerta's latest proposal was that his guns fire a salute as apology for continued affronts to the United States, the guns of the American fleet to reply to the Mexican salute gun for gun.

Secretary Bryan instructed Huerta that the United States would accept nothing less than a salute of twenty-one guns, and that American ships would reply after the salute is fired. MEXICO CITY, April 17.—Jose Lopez Portillo, Y. Rojas, Mexican foreign minister, said he believed the controversy between the United States and Mexico would be arranged before long.
Last evening some officials, because of their long familiarity with the easiness of Huerta, were not inclined to be too sanguine over a prompt redress. Privately they said they would be convinced only when the salute actually was fired.
Those officials who know the language of the communications Charge O'Shaughnessy has been presenting were sure Huerta had been convinced that, if he did not yield, the American government would compel him to do so by force.

The last vestige of any suspicion he may have had that the United States was bluffing was said to have been removed by messages from his representatives in Washington, telling him that President Wilson was thoroughly aroused and meant to force the issue to the end.
It became known that Gen. Huerta had been led to believe that his own statement of apology last Saturday was ample redress, but when President Wilson was apprised of the situation, he was not satisfied, and demanded a salute.
The disposition of the administration is understood to be to increase the naval forces in Mexican waters somewhat, even after the salute is fired, so that in such an event only part of the ships now steaming south would be turned back.

LONDON, April 17.—Contrasting the action of President Wilson in connection with the arrest of American bluejackets at Tampico with what was done when William S. Benton, the British ranch owner, was killed in Mexico, the Manchester Guardian, one of the leading Liberal newspapers, says today:
"Intervention which murder and robbery failed to bring about, is apparently to be the punishment for a merely symbolic slight on American dignity."
Expressing its admiration for the ability and the motives of President Wilson, the Guardian says it is impossible to suppress doubts and misgivings on his Mexican policy. It continues:
"Why should Villa murder with impunity and Gen. Huerta be chastised with the whole strength of the right arm of the United States for a mere breach of international politeness? It would be far easier to bring Villa to a better frame of mind than to teach Huerta manners."
"If the United States is anxious for an excuse for intervention in Mexico an insult to her flag will serve very well, but no one knows better than President Wilson that armed intervention, once begun, cannot be confined to the limits that are set for it at the beginning."
